OKLAHOMA CITY -- Timothy McVeigh and the mysterious John Doe No. 2 visited a model airplane shop before the Oklahoma City bombing to inquire about a potential bomb ingredient, a man told a county grand jury Tuesday.

``I saw John Doe No. 2 and he was interested in 100 nitromethane aviation fuel," Gary G. Antene said as he left the grand jury investigating allegations of a larger conspiracy and a government cover-up in the April 19, 1995, bombing.
